

Key Findings

This analysis compares the percentage of the population vaccinated against COVID-19 in five countries. The results reveal significant disparities in vaccination coverage across these nations.